

Greentech Capital Advisors announces Investment by Capricorn Investment Group

NEW YORK, June 17th, 2010 – Capricorn Investment Group has made a minority equity investment in Greentech Capital Advisors. Greentech Capital Advisors will use the proceeds of the investment to grow its business in the United States and expand its geographic footprint.

Ion Yadigaroglu, Co-Founder of the Capricorn Investment Group, said “We are focused on impact investing with a thematic approach to significant secular trends. We believe sustainability is one such trend given the environmental and resource challenges we face. As an investment bank dedicated solely to alternative energy and cleantech, Greentech Capital Advisors has impressed us with the depth of their sector knowledge and breadth of their network. The Capricorn team is excited to provide equity capital to fund Greentech Capital Advisors’ growth. We know that companies and investors will benefit from their uncommon expertise and high quality advisory services.”

“We are elated to have a strategic investment partner of the caliber of Capricorn, which shares the same values and goals as the Greentech Capital Advisors’ team to help transition the planet to a cleaner, more sustainable and resource-efficient future. The Capricorn investment will help us continue to grow our business and selectively expand our geographic coverage,” said Jeffrey A. McDermott, Greentech Capital Advisors’ Founder and Managing Partner.
